

Webinar

The Current State of the Sake Industry

Japan Sake and Shochu Makers' Association will hold a webinar as an announcement of their new English website.

This webinar is aimed at people who are making efforts to popularize sake overseas, and will be held for the purpose of sharing information and the awareness of problems by examining the current state of the sake industry from various perspectives using the latest statistics.

We sincerely hope that everyone in the world who works with sake in some capacity will participate in this webinar, share the current problems and future possibilities, and work together for a better future for sake.
